Extent and Medium:	13 Boxes
Name of Creator:	Saudek, Robert (1881-1935) graphologist

CONTEXT

Biographical/Administrative History: Robert Saudek was born in Koln, Czechoslovakia on 21 April 1881. Between 1903 and 1909, he wrote several plays, essays, epigrams and novels, including 'A Child's conscience' and 'Jewish Youths' (1903), 'Eine gymnasialtragödie' (1904) 'Und über uns leuchtende Sterne' (1907) and 'Das Märchen des Meere' (1909). Around the same time, he also studied at the University of Prague, Leipzig and the Sorbonne.

During the First World War, Saudek maintained an Intelligence Unit in The Hague and at the end of the War in 1918 he entered the diplomatic service for the Czechoslovakian Government, serving in Holland and in England before finally settling in London. In that same year, Saudek also completed 'Die diplomaten' which was published in German, Czech, Dutch, French and Italian, and dealt with problem of graphology. In 1925 he published 'Wissenschaftliche Graphologie' (Psychology of handwriting) which was followed by 'Experimentelle Graphologie' (Experiments with handwriting) the following year, the latter published in Czechoslovakia and Holland. Saudek also lectured about experimental graphology at Berlin, Amsterdam, Brussels and Prague. In 1931, he was one of the founders of the quarterly journal 'Character and Personality. An international quarterly for psychodiagnostics and allied studies' in which he regularly published articles during the early 1930s. He completed the more populist work, 'What your handwriting means' in 1932. Saudek died in London in 1935.
